25X1A9A Dear

Thank you very much for your kind invitation of 20 June to continue to serve on the Studies in Intelligence Editorial Board for another year. I am most pleased to accept your invitation and have found my association with you and with members of the board to be most stimulating.

Sincerely,

I am most grateful for your service on the Studies in Intelligence Editorial Board, and hope that you are willing to continue your membership for another year. The Board's excellent job during the past year in getting the Studies off the ground as a quarterly and improving its quality with each issue gives me confidence in its future, but I am reluctant to make many changes in Board membership until the publication has a broader base of experience under it. With your help it should continue to improve during the coming year.

I look forward to your favorable reply.

Sincerely,
